Business Intelligence

Challenge Boundaries

Data is only as good as its delivery. From boardrooms to department meetings, people make the best decisions when equipped with accessible, meaningful information. VIP is a full-service business intelligence firm that helps turn your data into actionable knowledge that ultimately improves business. We work with the best BI tools in the industry including Informatica, SAP® BusinessObjects™, Cognos, Hyperion, SQL Server Analysis and Reporting Services and MicroStrategy.

About VIP

VIP helps companies increase productivity, maximize revenue, improve performance, mitigate risk, and reduce costs. With nearly 1,000 staff companywide, VIP offers expertise in the areas of Business Intelligence, SAP Integration and Consulting, Technology Integration, Learning and Talent Management, Quality Management and Management Consulting. VIP is headquartered in Folsom, California with offices in Sacramento, Minneapolis, Denver, New York City, Alexandria, Houston and Bangalore, India. Visit www.vipconsulting.com.

Uncover New Possibilities

In following a project's complete Business Intelligence (BI) life cycle, VIP provides needs assessments, ROI analysis, requirements gathering and project planning through selection and implementation of business intelligence technology. Once a product is in place, VIP can also assist in developing and delivering internal training for end-users.

At VIP, our data integration solutions are designed to help you address data challenges today while securing a lasting strategy and architecture for tomorrow. We can assist you in any phase of your BI initiative, from preliminary analysis and tool selection through architecture, design, development, testing and rollout. We can help your organization build a complete BI solution that helps you get the most out of your data.

Excellence in Delivery

We pride ourselves on offering global delivery options that encompass on-shore, off-shore, and project based resources. With our expertise in Business Intelligence, SAP Consulting and Integration, Technology Integration, Learning and Talent Management, Quality Management, and Management Consulting, VIP offers complete delivery support. Through our leading-edge business intelligence design and implementation methodology, we deliver consistent, repeatable, and well-documented projects.

* Training

VIP helps clients to become proficient and self-sufficient. We offer both public and on-site customized classes for data warehousing, data architecture, and business intelligence solutions. Our experienced instructors have training backgrounds combined with real-life knowledge, which increases the value of your classroom experience. Further, as an authorized education partner for SAP BusinessObjects solutions, we are one of a handful of organizations in the Western US able to offer official curriculum courses on SAP BusinessObjects. For more information on training, contact corecollege@vipconsulting.com.

Business Intelligence Solutions

SAP BI

As an SAP BusinessObjects Gold Partner, VIP has depth-of-knowledge about SAP BI that is unmatched in the industry. We bring product knowledge and implementation experience perfected through numerous engagements, together with an essential understanding of the nuances that drive many industries. This focused expertise is why a growing number of companies turn to VIP's Business Intelligence Practice for their BI implementations no matter what their size or situation. We provide a total view into SAP, helping organizations to develop a strategy that supports the specific business needs and dynamics.

Reporting, Analytics & Dashboards

Our designers and BI tool experts work with your organization to ensure the information delivered through the BI platform is exactly what you want and how you need it to be presented. We have expertise with the most popular BI platforms in the industry including Hyperion, SAP Business Objects, Cognos, SQL Server Analysis and Reporting Services and MicroStrategy.

Data Warehouse & Data Architecture

Data architecture defines the data, source systems and framework for transforming data into useful information. Thus, the way a data warehouse is architected can make the difference between success and failure. Our veteran data architects are instrumental in ensuring that your data warehouse is built on a good foundation that will serve you now and in the future. Further, if your current data warehouse has outgrown its original architecture, we can provide a solution to solve this challenge.

Strategic Services

Organizing large amounts of customer, product or financial data into accurate and consistent information for immediate use across an enterprise has become a performance and productivity issue for every large business and government entity. VIP can work with you to improve the process, methodology, best practices architecture and overall business value of your BI solution through our comprehensive assessment services. We offer strategic services in the areas of Master Data Management (MDM) and Metadata Management to support the overall information needs of your organization.
